

Generation Tomorrow 2017-18 Student Program Application

INSTRUCTIONS: Generation Tomorrow is a program of the Johns Hopkins Center for AIDS Research, offering training and field experience to college students and community members with interests in HIV and hepatitis C care services. No previous experience with HIV or hepatitis C is required. If you are interested in being considered for the 2017-18 cohort, please send your resume and a completed application form to zackiya.grant@jhmi.edu by 5:00p.m. on September 15, 2017.

PERSONAL INFORMATION

Last Name

First Name

School or Professional E-mail Address

Phone Number

Sex

Date of Birth

Are you of Hispanic, Latino or Spanish Origin?

Yes  No

How do you describe yourself?

- White
- Black or African-American
- American Indian or Alaska Native
- Asian
- Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander
- Mixed Race
- Other

Which of the following groups have you worked with previously? Check all that apply.

- Low-income adults
- Drug users
- Veterans
- HIV-infected persons
- HCV-infected persons
- Lesbian, gay or transgender persons
- Immigrant populations

EDUCATION

Name of JHU School Where You Are Enrolled
(School of Medicine, Public Health, Nursing, etc.)

Name of the JHU Department Where You Are Enrolled

Highest Degree Earned

List your special skills or certifications
(Phlebotomy, language skills, first aid, etc.):

EXPERIENCE

Do you have experience with HIV counseling, testing, or educational outreach?

Do you have experience with hepatitis C counseling, testing or educational outreach?

Briefly describe any relevant experience with community service and outreach.

---

Briefly describe the personal and professional reasons you want to be a part of Generation Tomorrow.

---

Tell us a story about yourself that demonstrates your leadership skills.

