

“The Graying of HIV”

Implications for the Care and Treatment of an Aging Population

Tuesday, March 7, 2017

8:00AM – 4:00PM

THE CONFERENCE CENTER AT SHEPPARD PRATT

6501 N. Charles Street
Baltimore, Maryland 21285-6815

This full day symposium will address the increasing complexities of care and treatment of the aging HIV positive patient

Todd Brown, MD, PhD
Professor Endocrinology,
JHU SOM

Oluwaseun Falade-Nwulia, MD, MPH
Assistant Professor, Infectious
Disease, JHUSOM

Amy Justice, MD, PhD
Professor of Medicine and Public Health
Yale University

Stephen Karpiak, PhD
Senior Director for Research for ACRIA
Center on HIV and Aging

Justin McArthur, MD
Director, Department of Neurology, JHSOM Professor,
Neuroimmunology JHSOM

Targeted Audience: Physicians, Advanced Practice Nurses, PA-Cs, Pharmacists, social workers and case managers, Allied Health Professionals

CME, CEU and CPE provided

HRSA HIV/AIDS Bureau division in Training and Technical Assistance Award 1U10HA29295-01-00

On-line registration available:

<https://www.maaetc.org/events/view/8462>

CONTACT FOR MORE INFO

Dorcas Baker, RN, BSN, ACRN

JHU AETC

443-287-4779

