

Center for AIDS Research Mid-Atlantic Consortium Nursing Initiative August 2025 Newsletter

Congratulations to our CFAR MACC Nursing Initiative Conference Support Awardees!

We are excited to announce the following CFAR MACC Mentees who have received Nursing Initiative Conference Support Awards to attend the upcoming Association of Nurses in AIDS Care (ANAC) Conference in Philadelphia, PA on November 6th - 8th 2025:

- Juh Hyun Shin – DC CFAR (George Washington University School of Nursing)
- Tierra Williams – DC CFAR (Children's National Hospital)
- Nkechi Enwerem – D.C. CFAR (Howard University College of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences)
- Charlotte Nwogwugwu – University of Maryland School of Nursing
- Gloria Mpundu – Johns Hopkins University CFAR (School of Nursing)
- Enmanuel Minaya Fernandez – University of Pennsylvania CFAR
- Marik Moen – University of Maryland School of Nursing
- Angel Boulware – Johns Hopkins University CFAR (Bloomberg School of Public Health)

Congratulations to all of our awardees for their outstanding achievements! We hope to see you there. For more information on how to register, visit here

Featured Speaker at Association of Nurses in AIDS Care Conference 2025!

We are proud to highlight that MACC Nursing Initiative Chair, Dr. Kamila Alexander, is an invited speaker at the ANAC Conference on November 6th. Dr. Alexander's work centers on violence and HIV prevention, nursing leadership, and the intersections of gender, power, and health. Her invited talk will bring valuable perspectives to the national conversation on advancing nursing and nursing science in HIV research.